Potts Grapple Services

Jonathan Potts brings a wealth of experience as a Sales Arborist at Gunnison Tree Service, where he identified a critical need for enhanced resources to handle tree companies' job site debris. Inspired by this observation, he established Potts Grapple Services, specializing in the efficient removal of Green Waste and Construction Debris. Serving a diverse range of clients in the Residential, Commercial, Government, Landscaping, Tree Service, General Contracting, and Utility markets, Potts Grapple Services has become a trusted provider in the industry.

Having witnessed firsthand the challenges faced by tree companies in disposing and repurposing wood debris, Jonathan Potts has devoted his efforts to finding sustainable solutions. By re-utilizing wood waste instead of allowing it to end up in landfills, Potts Grapple Service takes pride in contributing to a more environmentally conscious approach to everyday wood by-products. A significant portion of their wood pickups, representing an impressive percentage, is directed towards re-utilization.

Jonathan Potts joins us in this workshop to share his extensive knowledge and passion for advancing Urban Wood Re-utilization. With a commitment to continual improvement in this field, he aspires to make a lasting impact and change the way we think about the disposal of our daily wood by-products.
